

A BATHROOM UNDER THE STARS

'When our twin girls were babies we could pop them both in the bath at the same time and life was a breeze,' admits Fiona Edwards of Stoke on Trent. 'But now Sasha and Eleanor are seventeen you won't believe how much grief a tiddly bathroom like ours causes. My husband Dave and I are always last in line when it comes to a peep in the mirror or a soak in the tub and we've decided that enough is enough. We're converting the attic space above our bedroom into the kind of bathroom we've always wanted - lots of space, a big, free-standing Victorian bath, state-of-the-art shower unit and VELUX roof windows with blinds that give us all the privacy we want or a peep at the stars in flickering candlelight of an evening. It will be heavenly - and you can bet two teenage girls of our acquaintance will be banned!'

PROJECT DETAILS

On average a loft conversion costs £20,000 and takes approximately 4-8 weeks.
